"Ty's down-to-earth designs feel more timeless than trendy, showcasing his love for natural materials and careful craftsmanship," said Chad Stauffer, President, Chief Merchandising & Product Officer for At Home. "Each piece ends up feeling like it's one-of-a-kind, while his unique style lends the collection a visual consistency that's ready made to mix and match. Best of all, our customers can get this effortless look at amazing price points."

The line was inspired by Ty's own personal style. He worked with At Home's creative and merchant teams to source woven natural fibers, soft woodgrain, cozy cotton and calm, coastal blues to give every item a sunny simplicity.

"I'm passionate that good design can change your life and everyone should be able to afford it," said Pennington. "That's what is so great about this collection. You can get this California-cool, effortless look and you don't have to splurge to refresh your home."

The collection has a Scandinavian farmhouse feel with a clean, coastal vibe and includes indoor and outdoor home décor items with materials like bleached wood, frosted sea glass and cabana stripes, as well as pillows and art with coral, shells, seaweed, and sea life motifs.

The Ty Pennington line is At Home's fourth celebrity designer collaboration. Other collections feature HGTV star Grace Mitchell, London fashion designer Tracey Boyd, and fitness and wellness advocate Laila Ali.
